Inaka: Child's Eyes

Inaka: Child's Eyes is a hard backed 48 page book and 20 minute CD.

It blends beautiful imagery and design with music from around the world, a professionally acted reading and an inspirational tale that examines the connection between childhood and the adults we become.

It appeals to people of all ages and is unlike any other tale.

Inaka: Child's Eyes is the perfect gift book and CD.

About the Author and The Inaka Project

Gerard Brindley is a writer, musician, educator and the creative director of The Inaka Project. He brings positivity and a cooperative approach to the creative process. Gerard's writing is influenced by diverse writers including Paulo Coelho, Edward Lear and Richard Bach.

The Inaka Project combines the talents of musicians, designers, actors and photographers. There are three books planned for the project as well as photographic exhibitions and music recordings.

Every school involved in the program is able to submit student photographs to our nature gallery and to share a part of their world.

Schools that sell 100 books or more will earn a visit and inspirational talk from the project's writer and creative director Gerard Brindley.

10 % of all profits from The Inaka Project are donated to support the Escuela La Esperanza (The School of Hope) Tijuana, Mexico.
